

Wild Behaviour: A New Zealand Perspective

by Trevor Penfold (Perfect Planet Publishing $58)

Stunning images of New Zealand wildlife, from perky little robins foraging on the bush floor to wandering albatross soaring across the ocean, and from portly sea lions defending their harems to yellow-eyed penguins having a chat after a day at the office. These are pictures not just of our fascinating creatures but of the way they behave.

by Jim Eagles

NZ Herald - Canvas magazine

June 2013